sit Subway Censtruction Co. Sells a Four story Dwelling in Park Avenue.

It is evident that the city budget for 1910 will receive wider attention from taxpayers than any previous budget has had. Last week the Bureau of Municipal Research issued an invitation to philanthropic agencies to confer on those items with which they are especially concerned, and vesterday the Allied Real Estate Inter-cost of $3,000, David w. Ming architect.

Plans have been filed for enlarging the six story loft and store building at Nos. 213 to 217 Grand street, adding three new stories and rebuilding the existing interior entirely of fireproof construction. The projected improvements are to be made at a cost of $30,000 from designs by Richard Rohl as architect for Mary Fuchs as owner.
